

Faith Daycare & Learning Center
Social Media Permission Slip

Faith Daycare & Learning Center currently has a Facebook page and website. From time to time, we may highlight Center activity and/or post humorous and fun quotes or sayings featuring some of our children.

In order to add photos to social media that features your child(ren), we need your expressed permission. Children will not be identified by name in any of our publishings. In order to honor the wishes of other parents who do not want their children's images published, we ask that you not post your own pictures of other daycare kids on social media. If you captured an image you want to share, forward the image to the daycare office, and we will publish on the Center's Facebook page once we verify we have permission for each child featured in the image.

You can find us on Facebook under: Faith Learning Center (facebook.com/faithlearningctr/)
Website: faithlearningcenter.org
